

4. Since Phillis has bubbled (Smith)

5. Non nobis Domine (Byrd)

6. Voi sole (Caldara)

4. Since Phillis has bubbled

Three-part

John Stafford Smith (1750-1836)*

Engraved by Cecil Rigby

Since Phil - lis has bub - bled and jilt - ed her swain and is gone to, is gone to, is gone to join hands with a - no - ther young man, let him wash a - way grief with a glass of good wine at the fount - ain the De - vil, the De - vil, the De - vil, the Vul - ture or Vine. As he drinks let him sing fare - well to the bride; 'tis all one. Let her go, let her go, let her go, let her go, let her go; there's a thou - sand be - side!

J. S. Smith (1750-1836) wrote the tune, 'Anacreon in heaven' which became the tune of the Star-spangled Banner.